Special Event Disclosure

At NTHC we strive to uphold historical accuracy, science, and fact. In our current times it becomes increasingly difficult to stay neutral on topics such as politics, religion, and social norms. While we encourage anyone to believe their personal beliefs up high, as a museum and a place of learning we cannot abandon our principles. President Ronald Reagan is an inspiration to us here at NTHC and this building serves as a testament to his legacy, but we choose not to be politically affiliated. For this reason, we have the following additional terms for Special Events that are Educational, Political or Religious. NTHC is an equal opportunity for all those who apply. You will not be denied based on race, gender, economic/social status, religion, political or sexual orientation.
